ST. BENEDICT'S COLLEGE,

Conducted by the Benedictine Fathers, was founded in the year 1859. It is incorporated under the laws of the State of Kansas, empowering it to confer academic honors.

The Object of this Institution is to impart to young men a thorough moral and mental training, so as to fit them for any position in life.

The College is situated in the northeastern part of Atchison on a thirty-acre plat of ground, which extends to the river bank. The site is elevated and commands an excellent view of the Missouri river and of the surroundings; the play ground is quite large and well shaded, and, with the improvements that have been made within the past few years in the way of planting trees, shrubbery, and flowers, laying out walks, and building stone culverts, presents a very attractive appearance, and is really a delightful place to spend the hours of recreation. The building has been put up with an eye to healthfulness, comfort and safety. There are thirty apartments in the college building, utilized as study-rooms, class-rooms, and dining-rooms, besides a large play-hall on the ground floor, and three large dormitories, all of which are roomy and well ventilated by air flues; the underground drainage system is very complete, and the margin of danger from infected water, defective drainage, close and unwholesome rooms, and especially from fire is either entirely removed or reduced to a minimum. Within the last few years much has been said by the press on the danger from fire in public buildings, and deservedly. While it is not claimed that the college is absolutely proof against such a catastrophe, yet we are confident that we have removed every possibility of such an occurrence as far as human foresight is capable of doing so, and have left nothing undone to provide the best expedients for possible emergencies. There is a stand-pipe, with hose and connections in each story, besides a fire plug outside of the building; but what is better, there are no defective flues built by contract, as none are needed. The college and monastery buildings are both heated with steam on the low pressure system, and the chimneys from the kitchen and the boiler-room are veritable factory stacks. In addition to this the college is provided with a large stair-way which can neither burn nor melt, of brick and stone from the footing-course to the comb of the roof, and which communicates with each floor by double acting fire proof folding doors, and with the outside by a vaulted passage. It will be seen from all this that little has been left undone to ensure the comfort and well-being of the students. The kitchen is in charge of a community of able and experienced Sisters, which is saying for this department all that is necessary.

The College has two distinct libraries, one of which is especially for the use of the students. The works of the students' library cover nearly every department of science and literature. The current news and literature of the day are supplied by papers and magazines. This library already contains twelve hundred volumes, and additions to it are made every year both by purchase and donation. The College library proper is more especially for the use of professors, and at present contains fully five thousand five hundred volumes.

The College also possesses quite a little museum of specimens in Natural History. Aside from the importance which researches in Natural History have assumed by the light they have thrown on the past history of our earth and its inhabitants, of its minerals, animals and plants, Natural History is sufficiently important and interesting in itself to deserve at least the leisure moments at our disposal. There is nothing so little or so apparently trivial in God's grand world but may be made to teach useful lessons, and at the same time become an endless source of pure, interesting and wholesome recreation during our spare hours.

The Herbarium contains about fifteen hundred specimens, all classified and labeled. Ornithology is represented by a large case of mounted birds, in which every order has one or more specimens. The collection is especially interesting as the specimens are all Kansas birds, some of which are rare, possibly extinct, at least in their former haunts.

Geology and Paleontology are both fairly represented, the latter by fossils from various sections of the United States, more particularly from our own immediate surroundings. The mineralogical specimens are quite numerous. Besides a number of the rarer and more precious minerals, the museum contains fully half a ton of lead, zinc, copper, silver, and other useful ores.

Ethnology, herpetology, entomology and other branches also come in for a little corner in the museum. In short, there is hardly a department, the study of which could not be fairly entered upon with what material has found its way into the museum during the last twenty years. These specimens are being added to from various sources almost daily. The students have themselves added not a little to the collection, and there is hardly a day on which they return from a walk but the one or the other has picked up by the way side some interesting specimen.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

The Academic Year consists of two sessions of five months each. The first session begins on the first Tuesday of September and ends on the last day of January, the second begins on the first of February and ends in the last week of June.

Experience teaches that the students who are promptly on hand at the beginning of the school year, show the most uniform and satisfactory progress during the course. The experience stands to reason. Each class has its definite work to perform, to accomplish which it must go right on ; and since the pupil's success depends on his keeping up with the class work, it is important that he be on hand at the start. When it is considered that each day sees the class advanced a step farther than it was the day before, that satisfactory progress depends on the students' thoroughly mastering each task, and on their keeping well abreast of one another, it will be seen how important it is that the whole class start together. Those who join the class when it is already on the way, but too often interfere, for a while, with the smooth and steady advancement of the whole, and are, for the time being, a drawback to their classmates and an extra burden to their teachers. We cannot urge this point too persistently; and we would, therefore, impress upon all who intend to continue their patronage, that they fail not to be on hand to begin when the class-work begins. Their own interests and the progress of the class require it, and late comers ought not to expect, that, for their accommodation, their class-fellows be checked in their onward course. In the face of all this, too, it looks unreasonable, that parents should ask a reduction (as sometimes they do) from the regular charges, when their sons enter days, and even weeks, after the classes are under way; it would be more nearly right if a bonus were given instead.

The school-year begins with a solemn High Mass in honor of the Holy Ghost, at which the professors and the students assist, to invoke the blessing of heaven on the work in hand. Thus student and professor alike enter upon their task with the special assistance of the "Father of Light ;" and the success of the work as a whole may be looked forward to with confidence.

An examination of one week's duration is held at the end of each session, and reports are sent to the parents or guardians at the end of each quarter, to inform them of the conduct, health, and improvement of their sons or wards.

Students are divided into three departments: The Ecclesiastical, the Commercial, and the Minim.

Only such boys are admitted to the ECCLESIASTICAL department as intend to study for the priesthood. They have special instructions and exercises adapted to the vocation to which they aspire.

The Students of the ECCLESIASTICAL and the COMMERCIAL COURSE are divided according to age into a Junior and Senior department, each of which has its own study-room.

The MINIM department is for boys from nine to thirteen years of age.

Although it is desirable that all students enter on their studies at the beginning of the first session, still admission will be given at any time. Pupils thus arriving during the course of the school year will, on examination, be assigned to the classes for which their previous studies have qualified them; but in no case will a student be received for the First Latin Class, after September 30, unless he is well able to advance with that class.

Every student must be provided with one Sunday and two every-day suits of clothes, six linen or cotton and three flannel shirts, eight pair of socks, six pocket handkerchiefs, three pair of boots or shoes, one pair of light shoes or slippers, two cotton clothes-bags, four napkins, four towels, and all articles necessary for toilet. Linen must be marked with the owner's name in full.

The College is a Catholic institution, and the religious exercises are, therefore, as a matter of course, Catholic. We prefer to have none but Catholic students; yet should any non-Catholics be received, they are in no wise influenced in regard to religious tenets; but for the sake of order they must be present at the common religious exercises of the students and behave as gentlemen. Those who are not prepared to conform to these requirements should not apply for admission.

It is the wish of the college officials that students remain at the college during the Christmas holidays. However, should any one obtain leave of absence, he must be back at the college, ready to resume his classes, in the afternoon of January 3rd. In the event of his not being on hand to attend the class call at 7:30 a. m., January 4th, he will lose all claim to honors for that academic year, unless he can show that his detention was caused by weighty reasons. It happens not seldom that the one or the other is persuaded to stay away a day or two longer, who thus, for the empty gratification of another day's absence from class duty and college discipline, sacrifices his hard-earned chances of merited distinction. It is very injurious to the unformed character of the young to prevail upon them by false or trivial reasons to disregard rules. Boys are thus taught to disregard conscience and, naturally enough, must become unreliable. Parents who insist on their sons' strict observance of every rule, very materially assist teachers in the education of their children. Should they object to any rule, they will confer with the proper official of the college, and in the meantime require of their sons to submit, and not to be influenced by artful companions, who, under the cloak of friendship, lead the young from duty.

The Easter Holidays begin at noon of Wednesday of Holy Week, and end on Easter Monday. During this time students will not be permitted to leave the college. An absence from college for a few days is, as a rule, productive of no good. This is a lesson taught by experience, the exceptions to which are but few. Several days come and go before outside impressions are wiped away and the student can apply his mind without distracting thoughts. During the meantime, however, class exercises go on as if no interruption had occurred; his preparation is not thorough, he becomes sensible of a falling-off in his standing, becomes impatient and dissatisfied with himself, and possibly may become so discouraged as to lose all taste for his books. Even supposing this to be an extreme case, the possibility of such a pass, and not simply a bare possibility either, ought to be sufficient to determine parents not to ask or permit their sons to spend these holidays at home, especially when it is remembered that what good, if any, may result from a flying visit during these days very seldom counterbalances the evil that may and does follow in its wake. Besides, the latter half of Holy Week commemorates events of the highest importance to the world. The Catholic Church enacts these events before us in unusual and impressive ceremonies. There are few places in the West, except Cathedral Churches, where the ceremonies of Holy Week can be carried out to the extent that they are in the church of the abbey. From the first office of the Tenebræ on Wednesday to the Solemn Pontifical Vespers on the evening of Easter Sunday, the rich and impressive ceremonial of the Catholic Church is carried out in all its solemn grandeur, and the students are required to be present at these and to take part in them from first to last. We would consider ourselves wanting in a most important particular in the education of Catholic youth, did we not avail ourselves of every opportunity to make them acquainted with all the rites and ceremonies of the church, all the more so, as there is so much lamentable ignorance with regard to them, even among otherwise well instructed Catholics, and as the facilities for carrying them out on a larger scale are yet so few. We cannot, therefore, be indifferent as to whether the students be present or absent during the ceremonies of Holy Week, but must rather insist on their presence, as a thorough acquaintance with the practices of the church, is an integral and most vital part in the education of the Catholic youth.

The ecclesiastical students must make it a special point to execute with precision, gravity, and decorum whatever pertains to divine service. To this end they must learn the principles and the practice of Gregorian Chant, attend the instructions in ceremonies, and take part in the various ecclesiastical solemnities of the year.

DAY SCHOLARS.

As the desired progress of day-scholars greatly depends on their regular attendance at class and their private studies at home, they should never be kept from school except for very grave reasons; and their studies, to which from two to three hours ought to be devoted every evening, should be watched over by parents and guardians with great care.

RULES OF DISCIPLINE.

1. Students should at all times be obedient and respectful to the Officers and Professors of the College, observe habitual politeness towards each other, and always and in all places observe the rules of propriety.

2. MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP.

The attention of students is called to the fact that a free scholarship has been founded as a lasting memorial of the fourteen hundredth anniversary of the birth of St. Benedict. It is intended by this foundation to offer some apt, diligent and deserving student an opportunity of finishing his Classical Course gratis. The privilege of the scholarship is open to students from all quarters, and will be awarded to whoever shall score the highest number of points in a competitive examination. All who desire to avail themselves of this opportunity will please take notice of the following points:

1st. Applicants must study with a view to the priesthood.

2d. Their conduct must be irreproachable.

All who intend to compete for the scholarship must notify the President of the College not later than the 15th of August. On receiving this notice, each applicant will be informed of the day when the competitive examination will be held. The successful candidate will be entitled to free tuition in the Classical Course, and board and lodging for a period of three years.

The present term of the Memorial Scholarship will expire in June, 1888, and the next competitive examination will be held in August of that year. Owing to an extension of the College Curriculum, the competing pupils must be prepared to enter the fourth Latin Class, for the requirements of which see page 11 of the Catalogue.

NOTES AND EVENTS.

From the engraving on the opposite page, the reader will obtain a better idea, than from a lengthy description, of what a small beginning the College had, and how rapid and healthy its growth has been from the very beginning. A quarter of a century has passed since the first steps were taken to lay the foundation of the College. What the building was like then, may be gathered from the small engraving in the upper left hand corner. It consisted of a two and a half story brick building, thirty by eighty feet abutting against the small frame parish church. The embryo college was finished in 1859; and though the structure appeared quite large enough for those early unsettled days, on what was then the western frontier, it was not long before it became necessary to enlarge the buildings. Only two years later Father Augustine Wirth, O. S. B., the founder of the College, undertook the erection of an addition. As the small engraving in the upper right hand corner shows, this addition was joined to the east end of the existing building, running southward and parallel to the church. In that condition the building remained until 1866, when the parish had grown to such an extent that the church was found too small for the accommodation of the parishioners. In the spring of that year, Father Augustine began the erection of a large brick and cut-stone church, sixty-four by one hundred and fifty-three feet. The lower left hand figure gives a fair idea of the style and comparative size of the structure. Three years of incessant labor were required to place the massive structure in a sufficiently fair way of completion to be dedicated and opened for the use of the congregation. The College went on with its educational work in its usual quiet way, until the centennial year dawned upon the country. Until this time the community of religious who conduct the College had no really permanent existence in Kansas, nor had provision to this end been made. About all that had been done was to secure an efficient corps of professors from St. Vincent's Abbey, in Pennsylvania, the Mother house of the Order in the United States. But the College as such was an institution which existed merely from year to year, and might have to close its doors any time that the Mother house should withdraw its aid. This state of affairs, it was seen, must always remain an important element of weakness in the institution, and, to say the least, could not but retard its efficiency, if it did not actually condition its very existence.

To give stability and permanence to the community and, consequently, to the College, as also to remove the barriers which heretofore had unavoidably hampered the development of the institution, an effort was made to place the community on a footing that would give it an individual existence and make it dependent on its own resources. In order to bring about this end, a petition was sent to the ecclesiastical authorities at Rome, with the request that the community, which had until now formal existence only as a Priory, be erected into an Abbey. During the centennial year this request was granted, and the community, and the College as well, entered on a new phase of existence. Rt. Rev. Innocent Wolf was duly elected, confirmed, and installed the first Abbot, and on him, too, devolved the educational charge of the College. Within a few years after, a new system of buildings was erected on a much larger scale, as the older buildings proved entirely inadequate to meet the ever increasing wants. In 1878 the start was made. That fall one section of the new building was under roof, and during the Christmas vacation of that year it was thrown open to the students. The cut in the lower right hand corner shows its location and general appearance. Although this addition nearly doubled the room formerly available for the purposes of the College, it was soon found that full justice could not be done to the growing demands, unless the plan of buildings was further developed. Accordingly, in 1883 the contract was let for an addition twice the size of the one erected in 1878. In the present stage, therefore, the main College building presents an unbroken front of a hundred and thirty-six feet in length, is fifty four feet wide, and four stories high. The central cut in the engraving gives a view of the east front, having the church in the rear. The view is taken from the students' ball ground. The right central cut of the engraving is a view of the walk, between an alley of trees, leading from the students' entrance to the play grounds. The knoll seen in the background of this cut overlooks the Missouri river and bottoms for many miles up and down stream, and is the point from which the left central view is taken. The spectator is looking south; before him is the road to the community cemetery, a few rods behind him; while in the distance is seen the railroad and wagon bridge which spans the Missouri river at the foot of Main street. From this rapid sketch it will be seen that the career of the College has been a successful one from the beginning, and justifies the most sanguine expectations for the future.

THE FRONTIS-PIECE.

The reader will gain a more exact idea of the buildings from the frontis-piece, facing the title page of this Catalogue. The view here presented shows the group of buildings in detail and is about that obtained from the bridge which spans the river. The structure in the right of the engraving is the nucleus of the new system, and will require to be flanked by additions to both ends, to give it the size and symmetry which the plans call for. The proportions and the present size, however, are so ample that little, if anything is wanting to secure the utmost comfort to the students in the various apartments.

MT. ST. SCHOLASTICA'S ACADEMY.

On the last page of the Catalogue the reader will find an engraving of Mount St. Scholastica's Academy for young ladies, conducted by the Benedictine Sisters. This superb structure with the large tract of land on which it is situated was purchased by the sisters nine years ago. Since that time they have erected another building just south of the one in the cut, which they use as convent for the community, and which is as large as the Academy proper. The east end of the chapel, which forms the south portion of the convent building, can be seen in the engraving. The Sisters and their Academy are altogether independent of the Benedictine Fathers, nor is there any connection or dependence whatever between the two institutions. The object of inserting the Prospectus of the Academy in this Catalogue is to make parents aware of the educational advantages of this city for both their sons and daughters; for undoubtedly, the majority of parents, whose boys and girls attend school away from home, prefer to have them in the same city or neighborhood.

AUGUST 8, 1886. The Rt. Rev. Bishop Fink, D. D., O. S. B., ordained, in the abbey church, Priests, Rev. William O'Brien, for the diocese of Leavenworth, and Rev. Bede Durham, O. S. B.; sub-deacons, Rev. Gerard Heinz, O. S. B., Rev. Louis Flick, O. S. B., and Rev. Leo Aaron, O. S. B.

AUGUST 15. This morning the Rt. Rev. Abbot conferred minor orders on Ven. Fr. Aloysius Bradley, O. S. B.

AUGUST 27. The annual retreat of the Professors, conducted by Rev. Herman Mengwasser, O. S. B., closed to-day.

SEPTEMBER 7. The College opened this morning for the reception of students.

SEPTEMBER 9. The examinations of new students having been finished, the classes were called. At the appointed hour the students and the faculty assisted at the Solemn High Mass de Spiritu Sancto, to call down the blessings of God on the work of the coming year.

SEPTEMBER 21. To-day being the Feast of St. Matthew and the name's day of the Rev. Vice-President and Director, the students had a free day. The forenoon was devoted to a pleasant ramble through the groves of oak and paw paw that adorn the bluffs of the Missouri river. Athletic sports filled up the afternoon hours of recreation.
